I give you my king - dom,

No - ah. I trust you with my king - dom, No - ah. Be right - eous, No - ah, my faith is in you; I know you will suc - ceed. For a peo-ple are on-ly as good as their lead-er, and you'll be a lead-er they'll look to I pray. You'll be good, you'll be just, you'll be strong, you'll be right-eous, the per-³fect ex-³am-³ple in ev-er-y way. I give you my king - dom, No - ah. I trust you with my king - dom,

No - ah. Be right - eous, No - ah, my faith is in you; I know you will suc - ceed. Noah: He gives me, his king - dom, oh, fool to think that I care more for his peo - ple, than the rich - es they sup - ply! I will tax them a fifth of their gold and their sil-ver, they'll give me their fat-lings, they'll give me their grain. I'll have cop-per and brass, I'll have ziff I'll have i-ron. All this I will use sole-ly for my own gain

I will build a pa-lace! I will build it ten stor-ies high. Gold and jewels and sil-ver! Will be on my crown and they'll be on my clothes. They'll be on my throne and they'll be on my robes. I want them to be on ev'-ry sing-le thing that I own! I'll get rid of the old priests, and then call in some new. They'll walk af - - - ter my ways, and do the things I tell them to. Not on - ly will they sin, but all of the peo - ple, with con - cu - bines, wo - men, and har - lots ga - lore, they'll be la - zy, in - dul - ging in ri - ot - ous li - ving, ex - act - ly the op - po - site of what they were! He gives me his king - dom, oh, fool to think that I, care more for his peo - ple, than the rich - es they sup - ply. He gives me, his king - dom, and now I'll make it mine.
